

Access for All

The Dacotah Prairie Museum receives an "Access for All in Aberdeen" decal from the Mayor's Advisory Committee for People with Disabilities in Aberdeen. The decal gives stores, businesses, schools, and newly constructed buildings an opportunity to display a disability friendly "welcome mat". One of the missions of the Committee is to achieve a "Barrier-Free Aberdeen by 2010" and to ensure everyone has access to the same goods, services and employment opportunities.

Photo: Mayor's Committee members presenting an "Access for All" decal to Sue Gates, Museum Director (L-R) Dawn LaMee, Gates, and Eric Vetter